

The High Notes Performs at Cuyahoga County Fair

On Tuesday, August 5, The High Notes, one of two National Council of Jewish Women's performing groups, presented two shows under a tent at the Cuyahoga County Fair. Despite a storm that raged during the show, entertainers smiled, sang and continued to entertain the crowd. The weather calmed for the second show, and all in attendance enjoyed a sing-along.

"With all the negative news that's recently been publicized worldwide, it felt good to get up there and sing," Lynn Kleinman told us. "We were thrilled to have some fun and represent our Jewish community."

Pictured from left: Jean Geller, Aileen Apple, Sandi Bohl, Jane Kinstlinger, Diane Klein, Marilyn Herman, Ronna Treinish, Roseann Schmidt, Charlotte Rubin, Gail Eisen and Esther Spott.