

NCJW names two for community service award

The National Council for Jewish Women/Cleveland section named Jeannie Citerman-Kraeger of Orange and Marilyn Oif of Beachwood as the 2017 recipients of the Arline B. Pritcher Award for Outstanding Community Service.

Citerman-Kraeger and Oif have co-chaired the focus on foster care initiative since 2015 at NJCW.

Citerman-Kraeger

Oif

Sands receives NCJW service award

The National Council of Jewish Women/Cleveland section awarded Gail Sands of Cleveland the 2017 Alice and Eugene Weiss Esteemed Service Award, which recognizes volunteers who donate their time to NCJW's non-direct service programs.

Sands joined NCJW/Cleveland in 2014, and co-chaired the focus on foster care and embracing diversity sections in 2015 and 2016, respectively.

